

The AFTER-SCHOOLERS By Deblucke

You know when you've been in school all day and now it's over and you have sooooo much energy that you don't know what to do with your limbs?

Well, Nate Smith* has an answer.

Now, instead of your arms and legs...

...having nothing to do while your head learns...

...they have a purpose.

The target isn't actually that far away. Pretty soon, you get one in.

You've headed for victory.

In between turns, you're allowed to:

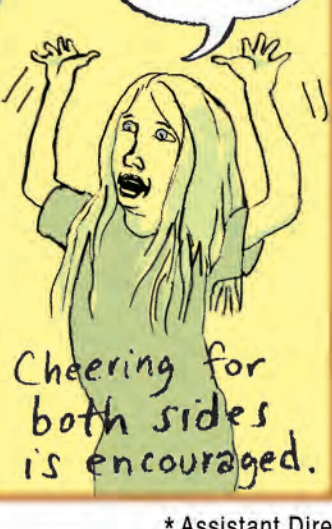

...whatever falls under the activity of being a kid.

Go, Red Team!

Go, Blue Team!

You're not too sad when you don't win because...

...someone just put a bottle of glue in your hand and you hear there's

* Assistant Director, Beacon Recreation Department